Microsoft Dynamics Technical Conference is more than just a convention. It's your chance to learn from some of the top minds in Microsoft Dynamics AX and Microsoft Dynamics CRM, and enjoy three days in the Pacific Northwest's tech hub. This event has sold out almost every year, so be sure to register early!

Along with content focusing on Microsoft Dynamics AX 2012 R3 CU8, Microsoft Dynamics CRM, and current and upcoming releases of Microsoft Dynamics Marketing, Parature and Microsoft Social Listening, here are some other great reasons to attend:

- Connections. Network with peers and leaders in Microsoft Dynamics AX and Microsoft Dynamics CRM, as well as a whole range of related technologies.
- Experts. Bring your questions to the experts who know the technology best. This is the place to hear timely and informed perspectives on Microsoft Dynamics AX, Microsoft Dynamics CRM and other Microsoft technologies.
- Discovery. Gain insights and inspiration from keynotes, breakout sessions, and reception and networking events. Learn more.
- Fun. When the day is done, meet up with your peers while exploring the lively city of Seattle. It's an ideal way to create new bonds and strengthen existing relationships.

Look for session catalog updates in the next couple of days. These represent just a portion of the great content that's coming soon!

See you in Seattle!

The Technical Conference Team

"This event was geared toward experienced users, [so] the learning opportunities were more meaningful. We were able to go deeper in the demos, and questions were targeted to realistic scenarios."
